STAUNTON, VA., May 25.—A special meeting of Stenwall Jackson Camp, Confederate Veterans, was held Thursday night in Camp Hall, many veterans and visitors being present. The hall had been tastefully decorated and presented a cheerful aspect, it having been papered, painted and otherwise improved by the J. E. B. Stuart Chapter, Daughters of the Confederacy. In token of their appreciation for the thoughtfulness and interest the veterans, through Captain James Bumgardner, extended a special vote of thanks.

Crosses of honor were presented to the following veterans by Mrs. W. H. Landes and Miss Mary Berkeley, of the J. E. B. Stuart Chapter, Daughters of the Confederacy: W. S. Blakemore, George E. Hendley, A. J. Mayfield, T. J. Mitchell, A. H. Bolter, C. S. Bolter, James W. Rohr, J. N. Smith, W. F. Weller, David H. Williams, J. F. Sadler, M. A. McComb, George A. Pilsen and Samuel Wiseman.

Operations Avoided

Hospitals in our great cities are sad places to visit. Three-fourths of the patients lying on those snow white beds are women and girls. Why should this be the case? Because they have neglected themselves.

Every one of these patients had plenty of warning in those dragging sensations, pain at the left or right of side, nervous exhaustion, pain in the small of the back; all of which are indications of an unhealthy condition.

Do not drag along at home or in your place of employment until you are obliged to go to the hospital and submit to an examination and possible operation. Build up the feminine system, remove the derangements which have signified themselves by danger signals, and remember that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, has saved many women from the hospital. Read the letters here published with the full consent of the writers, and see how they escaped operations by a faithful reliance on Mrs. Pinkham's advice and consistent treatment with
